PERSPECTIVE & CONTEXT

Why AI Central

I started AI Central to upgrade my life in my early 30s: freedom, tax advantage, and an asymmetric revenue opportunity

SCENARIO 1

Build to sell

Keep building AI Central as a vehicle built to be sold to a media buyer in the next 1 to 2 years, at a valuation around $1.5 to 2.5M

Minimise and hedge founder risk. Standardise everything - brand, processes, audience - so the handover to a new owner is smooth

SCENARIO 2

Skills as the hedge

The entrepreneur life may not turn out to be ideal

But the growth, learning and experience from building it - content creation, the creator economy, monetisation, go-to-market - can land a well-paid US salary that funds a comfortable EU lifestyle

This is an industry with a HUGE imbalance between demand and supply of skilled workers, and almost no training

SCENARIO 3

Family holding

AI Central keeps running as a profitable, family-owned holding media company

In time it becomes the family's own investment fund: we use it to optimise taxes, property and leases, and to build generational, shielded wealth

Scenarios 1 and 2 are not mutually exclusive. I am agnostic - and very opportunistic - about which one turns out best

I am not actively talking to investors. I have no desire to manage a cap table, or to answer to investors with different horizons or growth expectations

WHO WE ARE

A profitable and bootstrapped new media brand for the professionals adopting AI

Our vision: build a portfolio of media brands, by scaling our proven system to monetise senior audiences through content, brand deals and affiliate partnerships

THE PROBLEM WE SOLVE (1/2)

Time is money – professionals know that

Senior professionals will pay for easy access that fast-tracks their AI education

THEIR QUESTIONS AROUND AI

Too much noise

- “What is that? And how is it different from what I know?”
- “How do you use it? And what is the value add?”
- “Should I pay for it? Is it good for my company?”

Info is found, then lost

- “I find something I like. Then I scroll, and it is gone forever”

What should I learn?

- “What skills are in demand?”
- “What can help me impress my boss, or land a new job?”

THE AI CENTRAL SOLUTION

One-stop shop

Readers find organised, curated and original educational content in one place

A personal workspace

Take notes, build your own library, and share it with others – nothing gets lost again

Step-by-step tutorials

How-to content you can use directly to upskill

OUR READER

35 to 55 years old. A manager or senior knowledge worker, in the peak earning years. Time-constrained and FOMO-ing. Under pressure to deliver, or to impress clients. No time for proper sit-down learning and experimenting

THE PROBLEM WE SOLVE (2/2)

Money is time - especially VC money

Distribution is one of the biggest bottlenecks for new companies today

WHERE B2B COMPANIES STRUGGLE

- Getting their content in front of the right people
- Standing out from similar products
- Educating the market on their product
- Generating qualified leads

THE AI CENTRAL SOLUTION

- A quality, vetted, senior audience - on demand
- An in-house content team
- Go-to-market and lead-generation expertise
- A trusted brand

WHY IT WORKS

New media advertising - newsletters, social media, hybrid content - can deliver leads 50 to 60% cheaper than traditional paid ads such as Google Ads, LinkedIn Ads or linear TV

AUDIENCE BREAKDOWN

BUSINESS MODEL (1/2)

Imagine investing in ‘attention’

We are in the business of digital real estate: we earn money by renting our ad inventory, and from content that sells third-party software we earn commissions on. We then invest the proceeds in fixed-income products

CURRENT REVENUE LINES

Direct ad sales

We sell companies bespoke content packages, across newsletters, the website and social media

Ad networks

We run pre-negotiated CPC ads - pay-per-click

Affiliate deals

We earn recurring commissions on sales of software

Paid subscriptions

Readers pay an annual fee for access to premium content

Treasury management

We earn interest on held cash, and re-invest in the stock market

IN DEVELOPMENT

Ticket selling + high-ticket offer

We sell tickets ($25 to 49) to online bootcamps, where we teach a cohort of 10 to 15 people one concrete use case. At the end, the cohort is offered a high-ticket mentoring package ($1,999)

Merchandising & store

AI Central original merchandise - t-shirts, desk accessories, hats - plus recommended third-party products such as tech gadgets and equipment

Ben's Bites

Moved fully to paid education. Seven figures a year

Techpresso

An AI daily. It now sells a paid subscription tier

SWOT

Where we are strong and what we are fixing

STRENGTHS

- 3 years of brand life
- 200+ unique pieces of proprietary content
- #1 author in Tradepub's AI section

WEAKNESSES

- No moat
- Little difference from what bigger AI media products offer
- Undermonetized

OPPORTUNITIES

- New revenue lines - store, merchandising, books
- Cohort teaching, i.e. 1:many online sessions
- Fractional consulting

THREATS

- Being squeezed out as the market consolidates
- A social media ban, or a change to a social media algorithm
- An AI crash, and the end of AI hype

What buyers pay for professional audiences

TARGET	BUYER	PRICE (REPORTED)	MULTIPLE
Politico	Axel Springer (2021)	$1B+	~5x revenue
Axios	Cox Enterprises (2022)	$525M	~5x revenue
Industry Dive	Informa (2022)	$389M, up to $525M with earn-out	~3.5x revenue · ~11.4x EBITDA
Morning Brew	Business Insider, majority (2020)	$75M	~3.75x revenue, est.
The Hustle	HubSpot (2021)	~$27M	~2 to 2.7x revenue, est.
The Peak	ZoomerMedia (2023)	$5M	1.65x revenue

All multiples are revenue multiples unless marked EBITDA. Only Industry Dive disclosed earnings. Small newsletter deals price on revenue: earnings histories are too short. The three large deals anchor the ceiling of the market; The Peak, The Hustle and Morning Brew are the relevant size band

FORECAST AND VALUATION

Estimated valuation: about $1.25M by end of 2026

1	The conservative forecast for 2026: $268K closed in 2025, plus 50% growth	$402K
2	Deals our size paid 1.65x to 3.75x revenue. Our mix has a large, growing subscription line, so we use the middle: 2.5 to 3.5x	2.5 - 3.5x
3	$402K of revenue at 2.5 to 3.5x	$1.0 - 1.4M
4	Alternative method: 97K email subscribers at the $10 to 15 B2B band = $1.0 to 1.5M. The 181K LinkedIn newsletter and 44K Substack come free	$1.0 - 1.5M
=	Both routes land in the same band. For a profitable, bootstrapped brand, by the end of 2026	~$1.25M

What we need right now

The business is profitable and bootstrapped. What compounds it now is access

01	Introductions to potential clients	Our ICP: AI and SaaS companies selling to professionals, with live go-to-market spend. Recently funded, already advertising in newsletters, or on the beehiiv advertiser list
02	Networks and multipliers	Operator communities, media-buyer networks, agencies and platforms that aggregate sponsor demand
03	Events / conferences / speaking	Stages and panels on AI adoption and the newsletter economy. We bring press accreditation from Cannes Lions, London Tech Week and SXSW London
04	Mentoring by industry operators	Experienced media operators who have built or sold, to pressure-test our decisions on pricing, packaging and the road to a sale
